

78.4% of All US Rail Stations are Captive

Competition at U.S. Freight Rail Stations by State

- A freight station is a facility where trains regularly stop to load or unload freight.
- Freight stations are captive when they have access to only one Class I railroad.